Application & Adjudication Procedures

Each applicant may only submit one project, yet projects from different units/groups of the same organisation are acceptable.

1. Initial Application (Deadline of Submission: 28 January 2022)

Complete this Project Submission Form and send to the CIFA Secretariat on or before 28 January 2022 together with a project synopsis of 500 words in English for initial screening. The synopsis should cover the following information:

- a) Project name
- b) Issues/Challenges to be addressed by the project
- c) Project objectives
- d) Project beneficiaries (current and/or potential)
- e) Brief project description
- f) Brief information on project achievements

2. Second Round Adjudication

A maximum of 16 entries will be short-listed from the initial applications for the Second Round Adjudication. Successful entries will be asked to present the Project in printed format with more details, at a maximum of 5,000 words in English which include the text, figures, tables and appendices. In addition to the basic information already submitted at the time of initial application, the followings have also to be included:

- a) Conceptual/Theoretical framework for the project
- b) Project methodologies and implementation
- c) Project partnership, if any
- d) Sustainability of the project and initiative
- e) Project replicability

- On top of the printed project description, audio-visual attachment of a maximum of 30 minutes may be appended.
- The Second Round Adjudication will be conducted on 14 & 15 July 2022 either in persons or on Zoom in English to shortlist eight projects to enter the Final Round Adjudication.

3. Final Round Adjudication

Among the eight finalists, teams outside Singapore will be subsidised at US$500 per person, up to a maximum of US$1,000 per team, to attend the CIFA Regional Symposium & MSF Asian Family Conference 2022 to be held in Singapore in the week of 7-12 November, 2022. Finalist teams from Singapore will be subsidised at US$200 per person, up to a maximum of US$400 per team.
